

Mason Solar Curious and Community Supper

Community Supper - good food and catch up with your neighbors, and on May 22, a bonus feature:

Meet some of the home solar adopters in town and learn about ways to address the ever-increasing cost of energy here in Southern NH.

- When: Thursday, May 22, 5:00pm, Mason Congregational Church, Fellowship Hall
- Menu: Roast chicken, potatoes, salad
- Have you seen solar on roof tops or ground mount arrays in Mason? Some of these townspeople will be at this supper to share their experiences or answer questions you might have. One of them might be sitting at your table.
- Handouts for energy savings ideas and ways to find out more about solar and home energy – it is all about reducing energy costs and moving towards a more sustainable future.
